Dear Sir.

For the past year your company has been building the new Children's Wing addition for the James V. Brown Library in Williamsport Pa. I had the job of Clerk of Works for the project. I found through working with your Job Superintendent, Brad Harding, that he was very conscientious about his work. He was always willing to spend the time and effort to get the job done right the first time. He always insisted on high quality workmanship and would not accept anything less. Brad was willing to be on the job early each day and stay late to make things happen. Many weekends when sub contractors were working on the job because that was the only time they had available to do there work Brad would be there to assist them.

When the Library staff had a concern or request Brad willingly complied. This kind of cooperation made my job of looking after the Library's interests a lot easier. The way Brad handled the whole job went a long way in casting a very favorable opinion on the way Lobar Inc. is viewed by everybody involved in the project.
